Univ. Paper Offers Post To Dean Gautschy

Dean Gautschy, "El Don" editor and sophomore journalism major at Santa Ana College, this week received an offer of the position of Managing Editor of the "In-terview," weekly newspaper publication of Pacific University, Forest Grove, Oregon, for the year 1951-52. News of the offer came in a letter to Dean from Clifford P.

DEAN GAUTSCHY

Rowe, Pacific University journalism department head.

During April, Dean left his SAC college classes to travel to Oregon for a look at the university campus and an interview with the journalism department head and the "Index" staff. In the letter received this week, relating to the position of Managing Editor, Rowe said, "With your experience, you would be a natural. I talked the proposition over with Bill (a senior who is editor for next year) and he is all for it—as is everyone else on the staff. This would put you in line for the editor job in your senior year."

While on the El Don staff, Dean has received praise from the Associated Collegiate Press of the University of Minnesota and from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association concerning his "excellent" make-up throughout the paper.

In addition to his journalistic work at SAC, Dean is a member of the Black Knights, honorary service organization; the Brotherhood of Bachelors, men's service club; and president of the Tavern Tattlers, literary society.

June 10 Set For Baccalaureate

Santa Ana College's 35th Annual Baccalaureate Services will be given on Sunday, June 10 at 8:00 p. m. in the St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran Church in Santa Ana. The church is located at 15th and North Parton streets.

From a forming area at 15th and Ross streets, the Baccalaureate Academic Procession will march down the center aisle, with the candidates for graduation occupying the front rows, while the Santa Ana College faculty will be immediately behind them.

Marilyn Webb, sophomore English major, and Orval Hoover, veteran Air Force pilot now continuing his studies at Santa Ana College, are to be recipients of the prizes awarded annually for excellence in poetry and prose appearing in the "Tavern Post," college literary magazine published by the Tavern Tattlers, literary society. The awards will be made by Miss Lota E. Blythe, Tattlers' adviser, during the "June Jubilee," annual all-school Spring banquet to be held Wednesday, June 13, at the Pacific Coast Club in Long Beach.

Miss Webb will receive the Robert L. Brown prize in recognition of her "excellent collection of poetry," according to Miss Blythe, who today announced the decisions of the judges, Mrs. Ernest Crozier Phillips, wife of a former instructor of drama and speech, and Mrs. Eleanor Northcross, former Tattlers' adviser and SAC dean of women.

Hoover Wins Award

Hoover will be the recipient of the Tavern Tattler's award for the "most outstanding prose" appearing in this year's issue of "Tavern Post"—his story, "The Last Time" was inspired by his experiences with the cruelty that sometimes comes with "blanket orders" in the Army.

Winning honorable mention were Diana Charlton, Santa Ana College freshman and "Tavern Post" business manager, for her poem, "Devil Stone," and Sam Uyeda, sophomore major in foreign trade, for scholarship and verse.

Designed Cover

In addition to her work in writing, Miss Webb as assistant editor and art editor for the "Tavern Post," designed the cover for this year's edition. We think one of her poems, "Pixie-Face," typifies Marilyn, herself.

"An elf had danced about her face
And tracked ten freckles down her nose;
Sprinkling laughter every place,
An elf had danced about her face
And left a bit of pixie grace
Denting dimples with his toes,
An elf had danced about her face

"Men of Note" To Play For All-School Banquet

Gordon Wheatly and his Men of Note will provide music for dancing following the "June Jubilee," annual all-school Spring banquet, to be held Wednesday, June 13, 6:30 p. m., at the Pacific Coast club in Long Beach, according to the announcement released today by Joanne Clark, general chairman, and Mrs. Mary Safley Reed, faculty adviser.

The entire program, built around the "June Jubilee" theme, has been completed with Donald Dunbar, Associated Student Body president, scheduled to act as toastmaster. Dr. Daniel C. McNaughton, Santa Ana College director, will deliver the invocation.

Instrumental Selections

During the dinner hour, instrumental selections will be provided by Shirley Dewald, violinist, Roger Axworthy, cellist, and Walden Leecing, pianist.

Tickets for the banquet are announced as $1.50 with a Student Body membership card and as $2.50 without. Tickets may be purchased in the office of the Dean of Women, G71, from the Dean's secretary, Mrs. Hazel Gish.

Dates Unnecessary

"Dates for the banquet are absolutely unnecessary," Miss Clark announced following a planning committee meeting this week. "We hope that everyone in school will attend the event. A unanimous vote of the committee has also resulted in the decision to turn 'thumbs down' on corsages," Miss Clark concluded.

Attire for the event will be formal for women, and suits, dinner jackets, or tuxedos for men. "Suits will be preferred," Miss Clark added.

Committee members include: publicity, Dean Gautschy and Jane Lindemuth; program, Quentin Gallivan and Joanne Morrison; decorations, Barbara Brown; tickets, Don George; place cards, Ann Harding; and invitations, Clarissa Anderson.

DEADLINE SET

The deadline on securing tickets for "June Jubilee," Santa Ana College's annual formal dinner, followed by a dance, will be Monday, June 11.

RECEPTION

Immediately following Commencement Exercises on Thursday, June 14, a reception will be given by the faculty in the Student Union for all graduates and their parents and friends.

MEETING SLATED

All graduating sophomores will be required to attend an important meeting on Monday, June 4 at 11:30 at the Flagpole.

Students Receive Yearbooks Today

Students may receive their copies of the 1950-'51 edition of the "Del Ano" today at the business office in the student union building.

Holders of student body cards may receive their yearbooks free by presenting their cards and signing for the annual. Those students who do not have Associated Student Body cards may purchase the "Del Ano" at the business office for $3.00.

Florence Finley, Assistant Librarian Leaves After Eight Years' Service

There are now over 18,000 books in the Santa Ana College library. To the smiling, deep-voiced, warm-hearted lady, who, in her eight years as assistant librarian, has gathered knowledge about almost everything that is in each of those 18,000 volumes, El Don, in this year's final issue of your college newspaper, says, "Good-bye—we'll miss you!"

Mrs. Florence Finley, the lady to whom we have been referring, has served as adviser for Las Gitanas, SAC women's service club during all of her eight years at the college. In appreciation for her unceasing service to the group, members of Las Gitanas this week presented Mrs. Finley with a sterling silver candy dish, engraved with the club name.

"I am a member of that strange species born on New York's Manhattan Island," Mrs. Finley smiled as we began our questions about her life history. She received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Monmouth College and this year, on June 16, she will travel to USC to receive her Master's degree.

Interviewed Ezio Pinza

While majoring in English and minoring in French at Monmouth College, Mrs. Finley also worked on the college yearbook. The feature of her Monmouth College California and sailboats appeal to me most." (Her ambition is to own a sailboat.) "The correct way to see our country," she added, "is to start from the east and travel westward—because that way the days that she best remembers, however, was her work as drama critic—interviewing visiting artists. After meeting the artists at the train as a member of the welcoming committee, Mrs. Finley would ride with them to their hotels for private interviews. She remembers interviewing Ezio Pinza when he first came to America.

After her graduation from college, Mrs. Finley directed plays for a stock company and played the part of the only girl in "The Valiant" during a six-month run. For one year, Mrs. Finley served as a librarian at Harvard University.

"I love the plays and music of New York," Mrs. Finley said, "but scenery improves in grandeur, giving the proper perspective."

MRS. FLORENCE FINLEY

"I have enjoyed my work at the college," Mrs. Finley added, "especially that part in which I have become acquainted with the faculty and the students." The students and the faculty have enjoyed knowing Mrs. Finley, also. Her warm and cheery, "May I help you?" and her comments on books and "things in general" are now being placed among El Don's most treasured memories as he lifts his head once again to say, "We will miss you."

Character Club Party Brings Out Tattlers' Creative Ability

By DEAN GAUTSCHY

Characters, characters, and more characters.

A very odd mixture of characters (book that is) were seen at the Tavern Tattlers' costume farewell party held recently in the home of Nayan McNeill, past club president.

What a time was had by all as Chaucer respectively. Other and "Ophelia" were just a few of the many club members present who were portraying their favorite book character. Dressed as "Charley's Aunt" from the musical comedy "Where's Charley?", John Murphy took the top prize for the best costume, and for his efforts he was awarded a top.

"Mad Woman" Present

Club advisers, Miss Lota Blythe and Leonard C. Henard, made themselves very conspicuous as they arrived at the party dressed as "The Mad Woman of Chaillot" and the brutal "Miller" from "Chausser" respectively. Other prominent characters were "Emperor Jones" (Linus Dewald), "Harvey" (Bob Williams), "Tom Sawyer" (Janet Schermerhorn),

"Huck Finn" (Pat Flaherty), "The Dauber" (Shirley Dewald), "Cyrano" (Nate Chroman), "Ophelia" (Jane Lindemuth), "Robinson Crusoe" (Dean Gautschy), "Sinbad the Sailor" (Antonette Heaney), "Madame La Farge" (Nayan McNeill) and "Christine," (Louise Guinn).

Eventful Evening

During the eventful evening, games were played and refreshments were served to the conglomeration of book characters. According to Miss Blythe, it was the second party of this type put on by the Tattlers.

Concluding the party were the announcements of next year's club officers. Linus Dewald was elected president while John Murphy won the vice-presidency and Shirley Dewald will be the new secretary-treasurer. Walden Leecing was al-

Adventuresome Co-ed Embarks June 28 For European Tour

By JANE LINDEMUTH

Leaving for Europe from New York Harbor aboard the "Ile de France" on June 28—waving "good-bye" as she passes the Statue of Liberty—will be Antonette (Toni) Heaney, sophomore English pre-teaching major who is minoring in the French language.

"Am I looking forward to the trip?" Toni exclaimed as we began to ask our 'leading' questions. "This is my chance to settle a long-existing argument between Mr. Schulz (Carl Schulz, French instructor) and myself about which one of us uses the correct pronunciation in the imperfect tense of the French verbs. I'm going to listen carefully to every French-speaking person, and, if they don't use the imperfect tense, I'll ask them to use it, please." As we understand it, the difference of opinions falls upon the pronunciation of the letter "A" used as the imperfect tense ending.

Toni, accompanied by her aunt, will dock at Le Havre and travel from that port to Paris for a two-week's tour. After Paris, Toni will journey to Holland for a visit with relatives. (Her mother's parents came to the United States from Holland and their brothers and sisters still reside in 'the old country'.)

"Do not spend so much time in dusty old Paris," a letter from the relatives admonished. "Spend your time with us in beautiful Holland by the sea." While in Holland, Toni plans to travel through Breda, Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Niukirk, and the Hague.

After several days in Sweden, Toni plans to meet the pen pal she has been writing to in Lyons, France. "Her name is Antoinette Scotti," Toni added.

Avignon, France, will be Toni's next destination upon leaving Lyons. What will she do upon her arrival? "Why, I'll sing and dance 'On the Bridge at Avignon' just like the person in the song."

If time permits, Toni hopes to go through the Loire Valley and visit some of the medieval chateaux. The return trip, again scheduled for the "Ile de France," will begin on August 21—in time for Toni to return to California for the beginning of the fall semester at the University of California at Berkeley, where she plans to continue her preteaching studies.

"And how do you feel about all this happening to you?" we asked. Toni replied, "All I can say is—what a life!"

Job Well Done

The El Don with tears flowing through its ever-humming typewriters, is bidding farewell to two of its most ardent and loyal supporters, Jane Lindemuth and Dean Gautschy. For the past two years this pair has directed the fates and fortunes of the El Don, considered one of the best college papers in junior college circles.

This has been no small task. But with typical "Gautschy-like doggedness" and with seemingly "super-human Lindemuthian effort," the El Don has prospered, culminating this year by winning the All-American Award, the highest award that can be given to a junior college paper.

Working as co-editors, Jane and Dean have veritably worshipped the El Don as "Journalistic Deity," shutting themselves out from all other forms of "Collegiate Idolatry." The El Don was their commander-in-chief.

When the paper had to be fed with timely stories, or was ill, suffering from an overdose of typographical errors and misprints, or even be put to sleep, Jane and Dean would nurse it along with just the proper amount of features and stories as prescribed by that eminent "journalistic witch doctor," Carl Venstrom. These were rituals that sometimes extended into precious weekend hours; yet they were rituals that were never missed.

No matter how much "Pressure" there was, "Gautschy" and Jane always came through.

An outstanding public-relations job is the result of their labors, for there is no closer link between the College and the Community than the school's paper.

Also a fine job has been recorded in gauging the El Don's functions to fit the needs of the students. Dons have been kept well informed of College activity, the basic College issues, and the exploits of College teams.

We of the El Don staff, take this opportunity to lift our pens in tribute to a job well done—simultaneously, the El Don itself lifts its honored head in salute, halting its "humming typewriters" to tap out a grateful "Thank You." —Nate Chroman

SAC Zoology Students' Expedition Results In Capture Of Slimy Asp

By EDWARD SCOTT

While most Santa Ana College students were enjoying the Fiesta, three rugged adventurers, Bob Hatcher, Bob Hougland and Paul Ryan were hunting snakes in Laguna Canyon. Armed with a 22 rifle and 30-30 pump gun they set out at noon in search of some deadly rattlesnakes to display in their zoology and life science classes.

After tramping about the parched canyon for two hours without even a rattle or hiss, they suddenly came upon a four and a half foot reptile. Ryan turned about, thinking that it was poisonous and "was running like *&?ib," when Hatcher with a bombastic burst of laughter called that it was only a gopher snake. Using a forked board, Hatcher pinned the reptile's neck to the ground, then Hougland and Ryan tied its body to a long stick and put him in the trunk compartment of Hougland's car.

Today in room M the vicious viper can be seen slapping its tongue against the glass cage in which it longs to return to its dry habitat in Laguna Canyon and curses the day it laid eyes on three venturesome Dons, 'Bring 'em Back Alive Hatcher, Hougland, and Ryan.'

Commencement Will Be June 14

Starting today, invitations will be available free of charge in G71 to each graduate participating in Santa Ana College's 35th Annual Commencement Exercises set for Thursday, June 14, at 4:00 p. m. Each candidate for graduation may have four invitations for members of his family and friends.

With Dr. Daniel C. McNaughton, Director of Santa Ana College, presiding, the Commencement exercises will get under way in the college flagpole area. Walter Leeing, SAC student, will play the Processional on an electric Hammond organ. The Academic Procession will then come forward, headed by the Santa Ana College faculty, and composed of candidates for graduation to the Degree of Associate in Arts.

The Commencement Invocation will then be given by the Reverend H. B. Long, Minister of the Emmanuel Baptist Church. His daughter, Monta Jo Long, is a member of the graduating class. Dr. Hugh Tiner, President of George Pepperdine College, will give the address, his subject being "The Challenge of Leadership Today."

Following the address, the College Choral Group, twenty-five strong, will render the "Alma Mater," by Revell-Wheatley. The graduates will then receive greetings from the Board of Education.

Landscape Students Visit Laguna Beach

Paul E. Andres, agriculture instructor at SAC, reports on the activities of his class on 'Landscape Gardening' which meets on Friday afternoons.

The class is made up of regular J. C. students and other people interested in the arrangement and cultivation connected with landscape gardening. The class makes field trips and visits nurseries such as Amling's Roses, Buena Park, and Santa Ana greenhouses.

Today the class is traveling to Laguna Beach where they will visit the flower gardens at the "Three Arches" and Victor Hugo's. They will then visit the gardens of Lucien Vodon, a classmate who was a flower judge at the garden tour at Laguna Beach last month.

Those visiting the gardens include Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Larkin, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kelly, and Mesdames Gladys Hill, Alice Swank, Louise Harrison, Dorothy Beall, and Ruth Lancaster.

Many Contributions Make WSSF Success

The World Student Service Fund has hit a bonanza.

Through generous contributions by the various service clubs, and also by students who helped make the cake sale a success, the World Student Service Fund is $90.51 richer, according to David Baker, W.S.S.F. chairman.

The fund is set-up to give financial aid to students and universities abroad. It serves Europe and Asia without discrimination as to race, religion, or political affiliations.

Dave Levering, Fund representative who spoke here April 25, urged full participation in this fund drive in order to "erect a bridge of student cooperation, without which there will be no world and no tomorrow."

"By participating in this drive, the students of Santa Ana College have made it possible for students overseas to receive some education. Those of you who heard Dave Levering will know how much these foreign students appreciate your help," stated Sam Uyeda, Inter-Club Council president.

A breakdown of the contributions is as follows: A.W.S., $4.00; Bachelors, $10.00; Cake sale, $53.51; Newman Club, French and Spanish clubs, $3.00; Spinsters, $10.00; Tavern Tattlers, $5.00; and the Y.W.C.A., $5.00.

New ASB Secretary Chosen In Last Friday's Final Election

Marked by lighting balloting, last Friday's final Student Body election saw the only runoff contest decided in favor of Carol Ann Heyssel for the office of ASB secretary. All other contests had been decided in the Primary election held May 23.

Quentin Gallivan, newly-elected Student Body president, made known his appreciation and reaffirmed his campaign position in the following special post-election statement.

Prexy's Statement

"I would like to thank the Student Body for its support in making my election possible. I would like to assure the students and the faculty that I will carry out my program that I proposed during the election campaign;

1. To publish the minutes of the weekly student council meetings and a financial report in the school paper.

2. To endeavor to give the freshman and sophomore presidents a voting power on the student council.

3. To have the student advisor chosen by the student council with the approval of the Director of the college.

English Dept. New Courses

Mrs. Gail Smith, head of the SAC English department, announced today, that the English department will add two new courses in skills of communications for next semester.

The courses, English 75 and English 76, will be open to all but especially designed for terminal students. The classes will consist of learning to interpret what is heard and read in speech and writing, vocabulary improvement, and general ease in the use of the English language.

English 75 will be a three unit course and English 76, a two unit course, both of which may be taken at the same time or either may be taken first. According to Mrs. Smith, the two courses closely parallel each other but do not overlap.

Mrs. Smith will be the instructor for both classes.

Considering Plays For Summer Season

A series of three plays will be presented this summer by the Santa Ana College Players, stated C. L. Ford, director.

Tentative dates for the plays are July 19 thru 21, August 2 thru 4, and August 15 thru 17. Curtain time will be 8:30 p. m.

Dons Four Sport Champions

Basketball Team In Fair Season

Santa Ana's Don basketball team played a twenty-six game schedule this year and emerged with a win and loss record of 6-7 in the conference league.

Coach Cure's hoopsters caused no end of trouble for the opposing teams as they used their race horse brand of basketball which was so fast that the spectators were worn out after the games.

Sparked by free scoring Pete Smith, the Don's high point man for the season, the team was taller and faster than last year's squad as the starting five this year all stood over six feet tall. Smith broke last year's conference scoring record set by Rolf Engen, former SAC player, only to be topped by Orange Coast's Bob Yardley.

Bob Reid captained this year's team and along with John Mattox, Bob Hart, Jim Mitchell, and Joe Balsley added height and shooting skill to the team. Gil Luna, Wayne Elliott, Jim Hinkle, and Neal Brown also shared the spotlight to round out the team.

Don Baseball Team Defeats Conference For Championship

In making a comeback from last year's fifth place team, "Doc" Cure's baseball team upset the pre-season prognostications by winning the conference title over Mt. SAC and Riverside.

The Dons won nine of their conference games while dropping three as they annexed the conference crown. They also won nine victories against seven defeats in non-conference games.

Sparked by the pitching of Pete Fazio and the hitting of Jerry Brancato, Denny Sampson, Jack Goetting, Joe Malone, "Hockey" Noel, Jim Hinkle, and Minard Duncan the Dons battled their way to the title.

"Santa Ana can look for a good season again next year if Uncle Sam doesn't interfere, as only three of this year's team will graduate before next spring" reports Coach Cure.

WAA Ends Year With Successful Sports Record

Santa Ana College's WAA finished up a year of sports activities in which they played volleyball, basketball, softball, and tennis against other J. C. Women's Athletic Associations.

Two teams each represented SAC in volleyball and basketball with a combined record of seven wins against four losses in volleyball and four wins with six defeats in basketball.

The WAA fielded a strong softball team this year which won four out of six of its games. They defeated Fullerton, Chaffey, Long Beach, and Los Angeles City College.

In tennis, the team won two of its four matches in conference play and had entries in both the Ventura and Griffith Park Tournaments. A trophy for first doubles was won by Laura Perez and Aurora Valles while Betty Lancaster and Marilyn Vanderbush received medals for the second doubles in the consolation flight of the Ventura matches.

Dons Retain Championship Title In J. C. Conference Football

Coaches Bill Cook, John Ward, and "Doc" Cure began the 1950 football season with a certain amount of optimism. About all they would say about the team was, "They're big!"

Cook was looking around for someone to fill the shoes of Al "Hoagy" Carmichael and came up with a little package of dynamite named George Brancato. With a razzle-dazzle style of running Brancato sparked the team behind the brilliant quarterbacking of Ray Willsey. An outstanding forward wall helped the Dons to rack up six wins, two losses, and two ties. Both losses occurred in non-conference games.

As far as next year's team is concerned, Cook believes that the outlook depends on the draft status of the players. He feels that all the Junior Colleges will have the same problem so there won't be any one school fielding a powerhouse team. All the teams will be about even.

"Doc" Cure Leaving SAC For L.B. Post

"Doc" Cure, physical education instructor and coach will move to Long Beach Jordan High School to coach and teach next year.

"Doc" wound up his coaching here in a creditable manner as he guided the baseball team to its pennant this year, was backfield coach of the conference championship eleven, and piloted a strong basketball squad to the upper brackets of the conference during the winter.

This all took place in his spare time when he wasn't teaching physical education, first aid, or math.

Newcomb Sparks Trojan Victory

Jim Newcomb, former SAC athlete, sparked the Trojan track team to another Pacific Coast Championship last Tuesday night as he gained victories in both the one and two mile events.

Newcomb's win in the two mile was expected but his victory in the mile event resulted in a mild upset. Bill Parnell of Washington State was rated as the best miler on the coast this season and was expected to win in an easy first. Big Chief, however, had different ideas and paced the Husky all the way, nipping him at the tape by a foot margin.

The winning time of 4 min. 10 sec. was the best recorded on the coast this season. Newcomb attended SAC in 1949, setting conference and school records in both distance events.

Golfers Tie For Conference Title

Santa Ana's golf team wound up a successful season in a tie for first place in the conference standings.

Losing only one conference match this season, the Dons set the pace for the other schools to follow. Gordon Higgins, Don Schilling, Harry Roux, Jerry Hayes, and captain of the team Durand Djivre sparked the team in their victories on the golf links.

Hot, Cold Season Wins Champions

Even though the 1951 tracksters ran into tough luck this season, they managed to capture the All-Conference championship and gain a second place in the National Orange Show Relays.

The season got off to a slow start because of rain which resulted in the cancellation of several meets. The Dons, however, rolled over El Toro in a practice meet and defeated San Bernardino, Chaffey, Riverside, Fullerton and Orange Coast in dual conference meets.

Losing to Mt. San Antonio College by only a few points caused the locals to drop the circuit team championship. The Mountaineers proved to be a thorn in Coach John Ward's side this season by also nipping the Dons out of first place laurels in the Orange Show Relays by a scant one-half point.

In the circuit finals, the cinder-men sought revenge and conquered Mt. SAC to finish first. The Cal Poly Invitational Relays were canceled because of rain and the Dons did not get a chance to gain honors. Coach Ward also entered his team in the Fresno Relays and the California State Track Championship Meet.
